

Kiley Johnson

Child Development Therapist / Florissa

Bachelor of Science/Education, University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee

Early Childhood/Teacher Certification, Illinois State Board of Education

Kiley Johnson is a certified developmental therapist. After completing her degree in Early Childhood Education from the University of Wisconsin- Milwaukee, Kiley backpacked in Central America helping in classrooms and putting on several basketball camps. From there, Kiley took a preschool teaching position in Honolulu, Hawaii to gain cultural knowledge with an emphasis in child development. Moving back to the mainland, she was an aid in Prophetstown as well as Sterling Public Schools. Kiley coaches middle school volleyball and also volunteers in a variety of basketball programs in the area. In addition to being a DT, Kiley is also the Parent/Teacher Coordinator for the Prophetstown Pre-K program. As a developmental therapist, Kiley focuses on the overall development of the child including their cognitive, language, fine & gross motor, self help and social emotional skills. She is currently credentialed by the State of Illinois as an Early Intervention evaluator and direct service specialist.
